User: Please do not dump a bunch of information on yourself. Dump a bunch of information. This is being specific with your prompt. This is actually a requirement in your prompt engineering. You're supposed to create three guided prompts. A guided prompt is something like this. I'm guiding the AI with specific detail. An unguided prompt is something general.

ChatGPT: Got it! Here are three examples of guided prompts, each providing detailed instructions to guide the AI's output:

1. Guided Prompt for Generating a Fantasy Character:
"Create a detailed fantasy character. This character should be a female elf with long silver hair and piercing green eyes. She wears a flowing green cloak made from enchanted leaves and carries a slender silver sword. Her armor is lightweight, made of a blend of leather and shimmering crystal, designed for agility. She has a calm, wise demeanor and is known for her ability to control nature, summoning trees and plants to aid her. Her backstory involves a tragic event where she lost her family to a dark sorcerer, fueling her determination to protect the forest."

2. Guided Prompt for Designing a Futuristic Cityscape:
"Generate a detailed futuristic cityscape set in the year 2150. The city is built on multiple levels, with towering skyscrapers of sleek metallic and glass designs. The streets are lined with neon lights, and flying cars zoom through the air, leaving trails of light behind them. Green spaces are incorporated throughout the city, with vertical gardens and rooftop parks. In the center of the city is a massive, glowing dome that houses a central hub for transportation. The skyline is dominated by massive digital billboards advertising products, with a bustling atmosphere of people from various cultures."

3. Guided Prompt for Writing a Horror Story:
"Write a short horror story set in an old, abandoned mansion deep in the woods. The mansion has been untouched for decades, and it's known for being haunted. The protagonist is a skeptic who decides to explore it alone at night. As they move through the creaky halls, they notice strange, faint whispers and shadows moving in the corners of their vision. The protagonist discovers a hidden room with a mirror that seems to show reflections of people who aren't there. The story should build tension as the protagonist begins to question their sanity, and the mansion's dark secrets slowly reveal themselves."

These guided prompts provide clear, specific details to direct the AI in generating more focused and structured responses.
